House Gives District Full Day on Bills

Mrs. Norton Revives Age Pension Act; Vote Is Slated Monday.

17 Measures, Including Rum Act Changes, on Calendar.

For the first time this session the District will be allowed all the time it needs in the House to dispose of pending bills on its discharge day next Monday.

Shortly after Representative Mary T. Norton, chairman of the House District Committee, had returned to Washington after an absence of several weeks due to the illness of her husband, she obtained a promise from Speaker Rainey and Majority Leader Byrns that District legislation would not be restricted Monday as on previous District days.

Seventeen bills are on the calendar and can be acted on, but Chairman Norton will seek to put through a half dozen of the more important measures first and there may not be time to consider all of them.

Four amendments to the District liquor act, two of which were reported yesterday by the House District Committee, an old-age pension bill, and the bills to legalize racing and both professional and amateur boxing in Washington are considered the most important.

Tax Stamp Slated.

The two amendments to the District liquor act reported yesterday would remove the one-license restriction on chain stores at the end of 90 days after enactment of the act and would change the system of local taxation from one of the dealers reporting sales to that of placing stamps on all beers, wines, and liquors.

The 90-day clause was appended to the former bill, which is sponsored by Representative Black (Democrat), New York, because of the complaint of independent licensees that they had taken out off-sale permits with the understanding that they would not have competition from the chain stores.

Enactment of the Black bill, members of the committee believe, will reduce the price of retail liquor in the District. One witness appearing before the committee recently said the reduction would be as much as 12 or 14 per cent.

The stamp tax bill was requested by the District Commissioners to simplify the manner of collecting local liquor taxes.

The other two liquor law amendments, previously reported, would permit drug stores to fill prescriptions with blended whisky and would allow nonconforming business establishments in residential zones to obtain off-sale licenses.

Pension Bill Revived.

The old age pension bill, which has been lying dormant during the absence of Mrs. Norton, was suddenly brought to life yesterday upon her return and speedily reported to the House.

The bill carries all save one of the amendments attached by the committee. The age limit is raised from 60 to 65 years, the maximum compensation is lowered from $9 a week to $35 a month, but administration of the law is vested in a board to be named by the District Commissioners rather than in the board of public welfare as suggested by the committee.

Among the other bills which may be acted on Monday are: Authorization for the sale of Potomac School property in the Southwest, change of name of B street south to Independence avenue, $5 a day penalty on property owners who fail to remove snow from their sidewalks within eight hours, to give the superintendent of insurance authority over employes' compensation rates and several private bills.

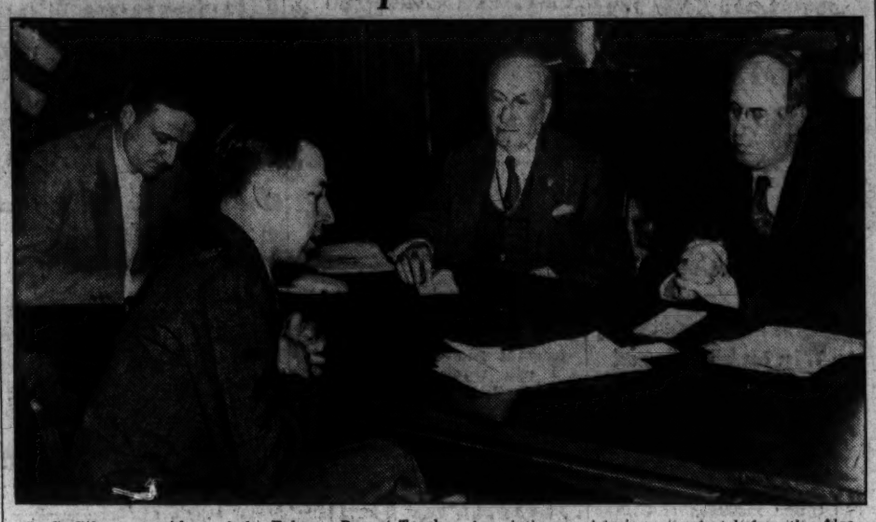
Takoma Park Liquor Licenses Protested



L. C. Gibson, president of the Takoma Parent-Teacher Association, registering a protest before the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board against the granting of liquor licenses to any establishment in the Takoma Park district. Around the table, from left to right, are: W. E. Chase, stenographer, Isaac Gans and George W. Offutt, of the liquor board.

Takoma Park Dry Hearing Is Postponed

Applicants Are Given Time to Present Side of Case.

Residents Opposed to Licenses Appear Before Board.

The hearings before the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board to determine whether Takoma Park, D. C., shall be prescribed a dry area, were continued indefinitely yesterday to give the applicants additional time to submit arguments in favor of their requests for liquor licenses.

At the request of counsel for the applicants, Chairman George W. Offutt granted the extension "because the board feels that the evidence is overwhelmingly against them, and it wishes to give the applicants every opportunity to present their cases."

Arguments against the licenses were made by representatives of civic and religious organizations, who protested in the names of hundreds of residents that the community has been dry for more than 50 years and it desires to remain dry.

Protest Petitions Presented.

Formal petitions of protest were offered by C. S. Longacre, of the General Counsel of Seventh Day Adventists which has its world headquarters in Takoma, D. C., and W. S. Magathan, president of the Takoma Park Citizens Association.

Longacre contended that local option was not precluded by the National referendum against prohibition. The reason his organization located in that area, he said, was because of its dry sentiment, and to prove this he offered a petition signed by 1,136 residents, who asked that the area remain dry. Takoma Park, Md., which adjoins the District community, is dry by charter, he pointed out.

Magathan, on behalf of the Citizens Association, offered a petition signed by 700 residents, who asked that the area be prescribed dry. He pointed out that the Takoma Park branch library is located near one of the establishments for which the license is sought, and urged that the request be denied because of this reason.

Residents Are Divided.

Maj. Jerome Johnstone, chief inspector for the Liquor Board, disclosed that a survey conducted by his men revealed 193 residents were opposed to any type of liquor licenses, while 123 favored all kinds of permits, 83 expressing no opinion. Licenses for the sale of light wines and beers by the drink were favored by 200, while 258 favored licenses for the sale of these beverages in bottled form.

The applicants are Daniel J. Mattingly, of 343 Cedar street, and John R. Ballos, of 317 Cedar street. Mattingly wants a license to sell bottled liquor, and Ballos asked permission to sell beer and wine by the drink.

D. C. Tax Cut In Supply Bill Is Unlikely

Measure Is Expected to Be Reported Without Reduction Rider.

U. S. Pay Increase Hurts Chances for $1.20 Rate in 1935.

The District supply bill for 1935 will be reported to the House either Monday or Tuesday, but it is not likely it will carry a provision instructing the District Commissioners to cut the tax rate from $1.50 to $1.20. The tax cut probably will be proposed on the floor as an amendment, however.

While Chairman Cannon declined to reveal what the report would contain, other members of the Appropriations sub-committee said they knew nothing of any such provision in the bill, although the proposal by Representative Blanton (Democrat), of Texas, had been discussed.

Moreover, it was pointed out that such a legislative rider to an appropriations bill could be ruled out on the House floor if any member raised a point of order, just as had been done last year.

And, in view of the attitude of the District Commissioners, who prefer that needed municipal projects be constructed and that the emergency relief appropriation be greatly increased, it is probable that such a point of order would be raised if the bill were reported with the tax deduction rider.

Rider Defeated.

Up until last year the District supply bills carried a provision that the District Commissioners could not lower the tax rate below $1.70. Representative Smith (Democrat), Alexandria, raised a point of order that this was legislative, and the provision was eliminated.

Subsequently, Chairman Cannon sought to attach a rider that the District Commissioners be instructed to reduce the tax rate to $1.50, but his motion also was ruled out on a point of order. Consequently, the bill carried no reference to a tax rate reduction, although it was understood that the Commissioners would effect the cut.

This year, however, the Commissioners are in a different frame of mind and are urging that supplemental items be forwarded to Congress to absorb the anticipated surplus estimated at between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000.

Tax Assessor Richards yesterday estimated that a reduction in the tax rate would cut approximately $2,500,000 off the municipal revenue for 1935. Such a reduction, he pointed out, would absorb practically all the anticipated surplus and might cause a deficit.

Pay Rise Changes Status.

It also was reported yesterday that the bill would order a further reduction in realty assessments by some $50,000,000, but District officials pointed out that such a reduction had been underway all this year.

Members of the House sub-committee were more inclined to favor the Blanton proposal before the independent offices act reduced the District surplus by close to $2,000,000 through pay restoration and resumption of automatic promotions.

Since the bill was marked up a week ago, it has been held open to include any of the more than $4,000,000 in supplemental estimates being held up by the Budget Bureau. Consequently, final determination of the tax reduction issue has been delayed until the last minute.

The matter may be put before the full Appropriations Committee just before the bill is reported. Chairman Buchanan, however, is generally opposed to attaching legislative riders to appropriation bills.

Judge Way took the case under advisement. Burtis admitted that his books were "mixed up" when the postal inspectors checked his records, but said that he had been ill just previous to the examination.

Deputy Marshal Thomas N. Saunders said the aged man produced a shotgun when his arrest was sought. The Louisa County former official said that "Saunders was a little upset when he came after me."

Pleading his own case in a 40-minute argument, Daniel Thew Wright, retired District Supreme Court justice, won his liberty in Police Court yesterday when Judge John P. McMahon dismissed one of two traffic charges and ordered a personal bond on the other.

Justice Wright pleaded not guilty to charges of disregarding two official traffic signs. He was brought into court by Policeman G. D. Wynant, attached to the Traffic Bureau. Wyant claimed the former justice passed two stop signs. After the lengthy argument, Judge McMahon ordered one count dismissed and took Justice Wright's personal bond on the second.

Grey Veterans Gather Here As Army Day Lure Is Irresistable.

Two Virginia blades, who can't resist military music, came to Washington yesterday to participate in their second Army Day parade. They are Gen. Homer Atkinson, commander in chief of United Confederate Veterans, and Gen. William McK. Evans, commander of the Department of Virginia U. C. V.

Gen. Atkinson is in the Capital from Petersburg, his companion, from Richmond. And they expect to have a grand time today when the bands play, soldiers march and Old Glory is unfurled.

Tonight they will become a threesome when Gen. Edgar Warfield, who lives in Alexandria, joins them at dinner with Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Randolph Coyle as hosts.

Gen. Atkinson first felt the call to battle when he was a 13-year-old youngster in school at Petersburg. During recess he wandered with some of the other boys down to the railroad tracks a couple of blocks away. He saw a captain he knew with troops going on a train. He shoulted "I'm going, too," and climbed on board.

But his father found him and it wasn't till he was 15 that he succeeded in eluding relatives and went as supercargo on a freight boat to join the Mississippi Brigade in Mahoney's Division under Harrison, where he was commander of a battalion of sharpshooters when only 17.

Later he was taken prisoner and sent to Baltimore, where he broke away and fled home to Petersburg just in time to hear of the surrender of Lee April 19, 1865. His maternal great-grandfather was Capt. Henry Heath on the side of the Colonies during the Revolution, but his paternal great-grandfather was a Tory. His own parents were of English birth.

Gen. Evans, who is 86, enlisted when he was 14 in the Field Artillery Corps with Longstreet, one of two independent corps which reported directly to the famous general. Gen. Evans had reached the rank of corporal when 17 in a fighting battalion of field artillery.

"That was the greatest compliment I ever had," said Gen. Evans yesterday, after he and Gen. Atkinson had been escorted to their apartment by Col. and Mrs. Coyle.

Gen. Evans is commander of the first Confederate Veterans' camp—the one in Richmond. He has served in three wars—the Civil War, Spanish-American and the World War. He is still ruddy and alert.

Schulte Narrowly Escapes Injury as Nats Down Memphis, 11 to 4

Foul Ball Hits Outfielder In Groin

Star Player Arises and Says He Is Not Hurt, Then Gets Single.

Bluege Again Stars at Third; Nat Rally in Third Nets 7 Runs.

By Shirley L. Povich
(Sports Editor of The Post).

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 5 (Spl.).—The Nats neared the baseball championship of Memphis this afternoon in a highly unexciting ball game with the Southern Association Chicks by a score of 11 to 4, or thereabouts, in the first two-game series.

The Chicks lost their equilibrium, their tail feathers ad the ball game in a terrible third inning that saw seven Nats scamper over the plate on five hits and five walks geenrously distributed by a couple of persons named Swayze and Beam, who pitched Memphis into defeat single hondedly.

Presented with a 9-to-0 lead after the third inning, Walter Stewart and Bobby Burke were not unduly extended to nurse this margin to a successful finish, although a recapitation of the box score shows the Nats making only ten hits to nine for the Chicks, who are managed by Doc Prothro, the dentist third baseman, who played with Washington for a spell back in 1923.

Peck Hamel Stick Star.

The game smacked strongly of a Washington flavor, what with Peck Hamel, an old landmark on the Capital sand lots, stealing the individual honors of the day with four rollicking hits for Memphis off the Washington pitching. The little outfielder, who hits the ball a mile—straight out—smacked two doubles off Walter Stewart and reached Burke for a single and a double.

For one brief moment, tragedy again stalked the barnstorming tour of the Nats when a foul off Joe Cronin's bat in the third inning whizzed into the groin of Fred Schulte, standing nearby, and felled the big outfielder as if he had been nudged by a pile driver. He had no time to duck. Seemingly miracously, he arose to pronounce himself unhurt, and proved it by taking his turn at the plate a moment later and driving a single during the third-inning carnage.

Bluege Stock High Again.

Well, there isn't much doubt now about Ossie Bluege playing third base for Washington when the American League bell rings on April 16. Ossie was out there today with his brand-new specs making shatter-proof territory out of third base, starting two superb doubleplays and otherwise conducting himself like the famous fielding gent known as Bluege.

He was hitting the ball today, too, and smacked two vicious singles into the outfield and two potent line drives into the left fielder's glove.

Altogether, the Nats had a fine afternoon constitutional, what with 11 walks issued by three Memphis pitchers, that explains the inverse baseball they were playing today when they scored two runs on one hit in the second, seven runs on five hits in the third and two runs on one hit in the sixth. The game went remarkable in the seventh, when they scored no runs on two hits.

Walk and Error Help.

A base on balls and an error in the outfield put two Nats on base in the second inning, and Bluege and Klumpp brought 'em home. The third inning is best detailed in this wise:

Myer walked, Stone doubled against the center field fence, Harris singled to center, Cronin walked, Schulte singled to center, Kuhel sacrificed, Bluege flied out, Klumpp singled to center, Stewart walked, (so did Mayze, the Mephis pitcher, who was replaced by Beam), Myer walked again, Stone singled to right, Harris walked, Cronin popped out with the bases full, and the Nats had their seven runs.

Memphis immediately cut this margin to 9-1 when Beam singled and Hamel rapped a double off Stewart. Bluege got two runs back int he sixth, when a single that scored Cronin, who got on base bay somebody's error, and Schulte, who had walked. But why go into all this?

Runs, Hits and Errors.

The Cal Chapman who played second base for Memphis is a cousin of Ed Chapman, the Nats' pitcher... the Altrock-Schacht feud is still boiling...while Nick was entertaining the fans with his first base tomfooleryy, Schacht was talking through the loud speaker...he men-

Indians Down Giants Again By 4 to 2

Vosmik's Hit Is Decisive; Yankees Win; Other Exhibition News.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 5 (AP).—The Cleveland Indians made it two in a row over the New York Giants today, the American Leaguers defeating the world champions, 4 to 2, at Cramton Bowl. The victory gives the Indians the edge in the series, four wins to two.

Joe Vosmik again provided the hit that beat the Giants, as he did yesterday in Cleveland's shut-out victory. With Joe Bowman pitching in the eighth, a single by Vosmik drove Sam Rice over the plate with a run that broke the tie and put the Indians in the lead, and a moment later he scored on a double by Trosky.

Gomez Yankee Star.

Birmingham, Ala., April 5 (AP).—The New York Yankees scored their twelfth victory in 17 spring exhibition games by defeating the Birmingham Barons of the Southern Association today, 7 to 3, before a crowd of 4,000.

Vernon (Lefty) Gomez pitched eight innings for the Yankees and allowed but five hits. The Barons shook Lefty for two hits and three runs in the fourth inning to tie the score, but the Yankees moved into the lead again in the sixth.

Babe Ruth got a single and a double in four trips to the plate.

Browns uit Camp.

West Palm Beach, Fla., April 5 (AP).—The St. Louis Browns broke camp tonight, heading for Orlando, where Rogers Hornsby's charges will open a four-game series with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Hornsby expressed himself as well pleased at the accomplishments of the month's stay at this training camp. The work of 21-year-old Harland Clift, who has played third base regularly in exhibition games, has been especially pleasing to the Rajah.

Dick Coffman has been selected to start the first game of the Brooklyn series and may go the route it not treated too harshly by the Dodgers.

Dodgers Down Braves.

Orlando, Fla., April 5 (AP).—The Brooklyn Dodgers nosed out the Boston Braves, 7 to 6, today, mainly on the strength of five hits and three runs in the fourth inning.

Owen Carroll pitched seven innings and the Braves made three runs off his delivery. Leslie Munns finished the game and in the ninth the Braves staged a rally that fell one run short of tying the score.

Carleton Goes Route.

Bradenton, Fla., April 5 (AP).—Tex Carleton went the nine-inning route today and the Cardinals, bunching five of their six hits in two innings, defeated the Detroit Tigers, 4 to 2. Carleton had five strike-outs, finished strong and seemed to have midseason stuff.

Jack Rothrick, Cardinal outfielder, retired from the game after being hit on the elbow by a pitched ball in the second inning.

On the Sidelines . . .

BACK when history was a child and athletic heroes of ancient Greece were enshrined as gods, the rewards of prowess were something that should have been brought to the attention of the amateur authorities of that day.

This is predicated, of course, on the possibility that there were amateur authorities then, a situation which history has left unclear. If the ancient Greeks had an amateur athletic union, the authors of the day did not write about it, thereby displaying more restraint and charity than do the daily authors of these times.

But the fact remains that homecoming athletic heroes reentered their native Grecian cities through a breach torn especially for them in the walls. The ordinary gates weren't good enough. A normal reward for outstanding achievement was a palatial home, built at public expense and presented to the conqueror. His money, if he got an expense account from the Athenian A. A., was no good anywhere—in the grocery stores, meat markets, clothing shops; even the liquor stores, if they had them, too.

In other words, everything was on the house, and the house was free, which demonstrates the low standard of amateurism that prevailed in early times. A much higher level prevails today.

The advancement of amateurism in golf, which probably would have been debased by the Greeks like everything else had they played golf, is clearly demonstrated by the fact that Bobby Jones never would accept the gift of a house and lot his admirers in Atlanta wished to bestow on him when he came back in triumph from his grand slam in 1930. The Greeks not only would have built him a home, but he'd have taken it and liked it, and it undoubtedly would have been perched high on Mount Olympus.

The Greeks had a way of doing things, all right.

There's a town in the Midwest, Brazil, Ind., that is going about as far as the amateur authorities of the day will permit them in the matter of bestowing honor upon a native son, Ivan Fuqua (pronounced "Foo-quah").

Co-captain of track at the University of Indiana, 400 meter champion of the United States, Sweden, Germany, France, Czechoslovakia and Italy, Fuqua takes in almost as much territory as did Jones and really rates a house and lot.

Instead there's a life-sized portrait of him hung in the main entrance of the new gymnasium of the Brazil high school where, as a youngster in his teens, he started his running career. Beside it hangs a list of the championships he has won and the times he has set doing it.

Fuqua's record as a sprinter, hurdler and relay runner stamps him as versatile a runner as we have today. His schoolboy records were 100 yards in 9.7, 220 in 21.6, 220 low hurdles in 24.7, and 440 yards in 49.4.

He ran anchor on the 1932 Olympic relay team that set a brilliant mark of 3:08.2 for 1,600 meters, turning his 400-meter leg in 47.2. He holds the Big Ten 440-yard title, indoors and outdoors, and the 220-yard title outdoors, as well as the national 400 meters championship. He has run 600 yards unofficially in 1:11 3-5, better than world record time.

He really rates a house.

Craig Wood to Wed New York Divorcee

Obtains License to Marry Mrs. Jacqueline Valentine.

New York, April 5 (AP).—Craig Wood, Deal (N. J.) golf professional, and Mrs. Jacqueline Valentine, of New York City, obtained a marriage license today. They plan to be married in this city on Saturday.

Wood, who is 32 years old, was born in Lake Placid, N. Y., the son of Charles H. Wood. He is a top-ranking professional and was a member of the last two American Ryder Cup teams. He tied with Densmore Shute for the 1933 British open championship and lost to his rival in the play-off. Wood was the big money winner in the 1932-33 professional winter campaign, and formerly held the New Jersey open and P. G. A. championships.

Mrs. Valentine gave her age as 27. Her first marriage ended in divorce in this city on November 2, 1931.

Van Bibber Appointed Buffalo U. Grid Coach

Buffalo, N. Y., April 5 (AP).—Buffalo University officials today announced the appointment of George Van Bibber, former Purdue tackle and now a member of the faculty of the Mount Pleasant Michigan Teachers College, as head football coach.

Van Bibber, a 1932 graduate of Purdue, received All-American mention in his last football year and played on the East team in the annual Pacific Coast game. He succeeds Jimmy Wilson, in charge of Buffalo football for the last two years, and will act as director of physical education in addition to his football duties.

Cornell Wins From Md. Nine, 2-1

Physioc Loses in Duel With Pross; Mental Lapse Is Costly.

Old Lines' Opportunity to Win on Tie Erased by Base-Running.

IN a game marked by good pitch-pitching, weak hitting and brilliant fielding, Maryland unwrapped the 1934 local college diamond season yesterday at College Park and buried down under the ninth inning found a lemon. Cornell won, 2-1, a score that shatters all precedent for college games, particularly inaugurals.

Almost devoid of thrills, the game, nevertheless, was interesting from the opening pitch until "Cocky" Medler strolled off first base in the ninth inning and promptly became the final putout. Cornell's fielding was flawless and Maryland's almost so. A couple of snappy double plays pulled Cornell out of embarrassing situations, and the host team coined one.

Physioc's Hurling Futile.

A breakdown in the mental department creating situations patented by the Brooklyn Daffiness Boys was responsible for the Terps' downfall. Steve Physioc's pitching plainly showed the ill-effects of a year's absence from the mound, but downright carelessness actually lost the game.

Cornell led, 2-0, when Bucky Buscher opened the seventh for Maryland with a stinging drive down third, going to second when Love walked after Nelson popped up to the catcher. Chase rapped a bingle to center, scoring Buscher, sending Love to third—and then came the brainstorm.

Chase broke for second and Love immediately started home. But Cornell didn't fall for the ruse. Phil Pross, the pitcher, snapped the ball to Johnny Mayer at third, trapping Love. The Terp outfielder jockeyed for position and then slid safely into third only to look up into Chase's gaunt figure reposing calmly on that sack. Love was called out for congesting traffic, and Maryland's hopes of tying the score faded two pitches after when Chumbrus flied out.

Pross, though nicked for seven hits, had complete control of the situation. He fanned two and gave three bases on balls. Phsioc fanned three and walked as many. Dugan got three of the nine hits he allowed.

Pasto Scores Run.

Pasto scored Cornell's first run in the fifth, leading off with a single, going to third on Bradley's double and home on Johnston's easy roller to second. The Big Red nine rose up in all its fury the next inning but Dugan, who opened with a hit, was the only one to score. The bases were fully populated. McAboy tossed out Mayer.

A Maryland rally appeared emminent in the eighth, when Karow, pinch-hitting for Clark, walked and stole second. But Physioc, Wolfe and Vic Willis, who batted for McAboy, popped up to Frost at second. Again in the ninth Maryland had hopes when Nelson singled smartly to center with two gone. But Medler, sent in to run for him, was caught flat-footed going to second.

The boys will meet again today at 4 o'clock.

One World Mark Falls in Swimming

Columbus, Ohio, April 5 (U.P.).—One world indoor swimming record was lowered in the preliminaries of the 1934 A. A. U. senior championships here today when Taylor Drysdale, of the University of Michigan, led qualifiers in the 300-yard individual medley event.

Drysdale's time was 3:35.4, a full second faster than the record made by Clarence ("Buster") Crabbe at New Haven, Conn., in 1932.

Walter Spence, swimming for the New York Athletic Club, broke an A. A. U. indoor record for the 100-yard free style as he led qualifiers in that event in the fast time of 0:51.1. The world mark is 0:51 flat, held by Johnny Weissmuller. The former A. A. U. record was 0:51.8, made by Walter Laufer, of the New York Athletic Club in 1929.

Drysdale also showed the way in the 150-yard back stroke with his time of 1:38.1.

Dick Degener, University of Michigan's National diving champion, was easily the best in the low-board trials.

University of Michigan took a flying start toward the team championship, qualifying three men in the low-board diving, one in the 300-yard medley, and one in the 150-yard backstroke. New York Athletic Club qualified three men in the 100-yard sprint and two in the 300-yard medley.

Carnera Changes His Training Plans

Postpones Trip to Maine; Working in Jersey.

New York, April 5 (AP).—Primo Carnera changed his plans today for the training campaign that will fit him for his 15-round heavyweight defense against Max Baer here June 14.

He postponed until April 15 the start of a trip to Bangor, Me., for a month of tree chopping and roughing at the Hine's estate outside the city, once a preliminary training site for Jack Dempsey. In the meantime Carnera will work lightly at Pompton Lakes, N. J., and will return there to finish training after his jaunt to the Maine woods.

Baer started his preliminary training in California two weeks ago.

Stolark Beats Hoag 2 and 1 In Upset

Oliver, Folk and Rippy Also Win in Annual Rock Creek Play.

EDDIE STOLARK will battle Andy Oliveri, and Serge W. Folk will opose Claude Rippy this morning at Rock Creek in the semifinals of the annual Rock Creek open golf tournament.

Stolark advanced to the round before the finals yesterday by eliminating the medalist and big favorite, Russell Hoag, by 2 and 1, in what was considered the lone upset of the championship flight. The stocky Oliveri won his match by default. Folk crushed Mark Esch, 7 and 6, and Rippy encountered little difficulty in trimming Bob Leapley, 5 and 4.

The Stolark-Hoag match turned out to be the closest in the title flight. Hoag, former Florida schoolboy champion, whose 74 won him honors in the qualifying round Tuesday, had to contend with a rebellious putter, as he three-putted green after green. Stolark, taking advantage of his opponent's deficiency in handling the putter, drove nicely, and got down his putts at the crucial moments. They were all even at the turn, and Stolark closed out the medalist on the seventeenth green.

Rippy Again Winner.

With the finals scheduled for tomorrow, the prospect of a battle between Rippy and Oliveri loomed bright. Rippy continued along the even tenor of his way yesterday in crushing Leapley, although his golf was not quite as sparkling as that of the first round match in which he injected sub-par golf to win, 8 and 7. Oliveri is favored to beat Stolark, although the latter's victory yesterday showed that he can play with the best.

Meanwhile John (Russ) Connelly, the 1933 title holder, bounded back into form in the second flight, swinging into the semifinal by smothering J. B. Robertson, 7 and 6. Finishing the round, Connelly scored a 74. His opponent today is W. W. Seay, ordinarly a first flight player, who beat Russell Sullivan, 7 and 6.

Results:

First Flight.

Eddie Stolark defeated Russell Hoag, 2 and 1; Andy Oliveri won by default; Serge W. Folk defeated Mark Esch, 7 and 6; Claude Rippy defeated Bob Leapley, 5 and 4.

Second Flight.

John Connelly defeated J. B. Robertson, 7 and 6; W. W. Seay defeated Russell Sullivan, 7 and 6; B. F. Kong won by default; Jack Higgins defeated Bill Eaton, 2 up.

Third Flight.

B. Berkheimer defeated Joe Alkons, 4 and 2; W. W. King won by default; Earl Bean won by default.

Charleston to Hold Horse Show in June

Charleston, W. Va., April 5 (Spl.). Arrangements have been made by the Kanawha Players of Charleston to sponsor the 1934 Charleston horse show. The first week in June has been selected as the time and the grounds of the Charleston Riding Club at South Ruffner as the place for holding the event.

It has been decided to offer cash awards at this year's show, which will include out-of-city competition in walk-trot, hunter and harness classes.

Illini Strong at Home.

Urbana, Ill. (AP).—The University of Illinois basket ball team did not lose a Big Ten game at home this year—but it won only one league game away from home for a seven won, five lost standing, good for third place. The champion Purdue team was beaten here on the final night.

Chapman Foe Of Dunlap In Final

Defeats Dick Wilson in Semifinal Match by Score of 3 and 2.

Amateur Champ Wins Over Lynch, 6 and 5; Title Clash Today.

PINEHURST, N. C., April 5 (AP).—George T. Dunlap, jr., the National amateur champion, coasted to a 6 and 5 victory over Arthur Lynch, of Mamaroneck, N. Y., today in win his place in the finals of the annual North and South amateur, in which he will battle Dick Chapman, of Greenwich, Conn., over the 36-hole route tomorrow.

Chapman, who was New England champion in 13930, defeated Dick Wilson, of Southern Pines, 3 and 2, in their semifinal match today. The Greenwich entry reached the turn 2 down, but he played the final round in 1 under par, while Wilson's driving gave him trouble.

Met Four Years Ago.

When Chapman meets Dunlap tomorrow it will be the second time they have faced each other in competition. Four years ago, in the semifinals of the North and South, Chapman shot a par 71, but Dunlap went around in 67.

Dunlap, seeking his fourth North and South title, has demonstrated complete mastery of the Pinehurst courses, where he learned the game a decade or more ago. In the current tournament he took the qualifying medal with a 67, four strokes under par, and in the second round he shattered all professional and amateur records for the No. 2 layout by touring it in 63, 8 strokes under par.

Familiar With Course.

Chapman's best round on the course was a 66, turned in yesterday in the quarter-finals. He is likewise thoroughly familiar with the courses here, with their sand greens, having been playing on them for 14 years. He is the son of John D. Chapman, former holder of the National senior golf title.

Bouts at Portner's Offer Local Color

Gallagher and Brown Prep for Feature Fight.

Local color abounds in the regular Tuesday Portner's boxing program, which is featured by a ten-round main event between Marty Gallagher, a native of Washington, and Natie Brown, a Washingtonian by choice.

Joe Green, the fastest rising prospect yet turned out by the Harry Groves stable, meets Baby Charles, another Washingtonian, in a six-round semifinal, just to add to the "old home town" atmosphere of the program.

Both contestants in the main event have been undergoing a rigorous training seige and are rapidly nearing the peak of physical condition. Gallagher has been centering his attention on boxing, working with faster men for speed and skill. Brown, ordinarily a better boxer than Gallagher, has been dedicating most of his training program to punching in a vowed attempt to knock out the Foggy Bottom fisticuffer.

Blue Ridge Loop Nine Will Start Practices

Hagerstown, Md., April 5 (Spl.).—With three managers of clubs comprising the recently organized Blue Ridge Baseball League already selected, spring training will get under way next week in earnest in all of the towns.

Secretary Henry Decker, Frederick, has announced that notifications will be sent out to club presidents for a meeting April 15, at which time the clubs will be required to post forfeits and other minor details settled. The schedule will be offered for ratification.

Silence Is Golden.

The three most silent men in the National League are Sparky Adams, of the Reds; Ray Benge, of the Dodgers, and Tom Zachary, of the Braves. All of them "silent Cals" and it would be a tough job to decide which of the three has the least to say. Sparky goes for movies in a big way; Zachary enjoys a good cigar during his solitude, but Benge just likes to sit.

Like Father, Like Son.

Bill Swift, Pittsburgh Pirates hurler, presents another of the few cases in baseball of "like father like son." In the spring of 1909 Bill's father pitched the opening game for Pueblo, Colo., and 20 years later his son pitched for this same club.

Jockey Makes Fine Golf Score.

London (AP).—One of the best scores recorded on the Newmarket golf course in recent years was turned in the other day by R. A. Jones, prominent British jockey, who toured the hazardous layout in 68 strokes.

Butler's Basket Ball Balm.

Indianapolis (AP).—Butler University, annually one of Notre Dame's "big" basket ball games, lost both tilts to the Irish this year, but has one consolation—the Bulldogs trimmed Pittsburgh, whose two triumphs over the Irish were two of the latter's three defeats.

This Morning

With Shirley L. Povich.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 5 (Spl.).—As the ambitious guy who marries the boss' daughter said, "It's not what you know in this world, but who you know," and I was just given to thinking at the risk of bursting an ear drum that it's not what a guy does in the big leagues, but how he does it, that makes the difference in the old semimonthly salary check. I'm getting down to cases right off the bat, as it were, with the shining examples of Babe Ruth and Jimmy Foxx before me.

The Babe, in baseball parlance, is now only one jump ahead of the old gentleman with the scythe, virtually at the end of his rope as a ball player, yet his $35,000 yearly salary represents approximately twice the wage commanded by Foxx, despite the fact that the latter young man is in the very flower of his big-league career and doing things with his bat that Ruth no longer can hope to equal.

Showmanship Reason.

There must be a reason, as Brutus or somebody said at Caesar's burial, and it's as plain as the nose on Durante's face—the cause of this discrepancy in the wages of Ruth and Foxx.

The one, Foxx, is a journeyman ball player, albeit a good one, who practices the art of hitting home runs with such matter-of-factness and total absence of flourish that the feat is dismissed by the fans the moment the ball disappears from the park. His play is marked by all the color, showmanship and expression of a blank sheet of paper, and watching Foxx hit a home run has come to be about as exciting as an on-the-level wrestling bout.

The other, Ruth, captures the imagination of the fans who pay the freight. With a flair for the theatrical, brimming with personality, the Babe transforms the batter's box into his stage, leers, laughs or loathes, as the case may be, and hits his home runs strictly for his audience; the only man in the world who capitalizes on both success and failure, for be it a home run or a strike-out that the Babe executes, his fandom is repaid. There ought to be a moral somewhere in all this.

Whitehill, Crowder.

While I am in the throes of all this, I'd have you know that the presence of Al Crowder and Al Whitehill is all that saves Washington Ball Club from being an entirely colorless crew which plays good baseball but is almost entirely lacking in that quality known as showmanship, aside from the professional antics of Altrock and Schacht.

This fellow Crowder, who at 18 was a member of the U. S. Army's lost legion in Siberia, and who is a perambulating gallery of the tatooing art that is the envy of clubhouse boys all over the circuit, is by no means the dour, sour soul out there in the pitcher's box that his lazy-bone motions would have you believe.

Did you ever see Crowder out there with two out and two strikes on the batter? Did you ever see him throw that rainbow knuckle ball and then start walking to the bench even as the ball leaves his hand, supremely confident that it was going to be the third strike? Well, he does, and if that isn't color I'm going to give myself up to Funk & Wagnalls.

Has His Own Ideas.

Clark Griffith may moan and wail about the lack of the Nats pitching strength, and Joe Cronin may worry and fret, but Crowder has his own ideas on the subject. Today he was saying that's the trouble with this club, there's too much good pitching on it and a guy doesn't get enough work.

He's still recalling the world series last year against the Giants and he'll tell you the Giants were lucky to win. We were asking him what he'd do if he had the series to play over again. He reviewed the Nats' sad fate in his mind's eye for a moment and then answered soberly: "Well, the first thing I'd do would be too shoot Moran."

Just in case you've forgotten, Moran is the National League umpire who put Manush out of the fourth game in Washington and was otherwise of great help to the Giants, according to Crowder.

Cunningham, Venzke To Meet on April 28

Philadelphia, April 5 (AP).—Glenn Cunningham, of the University of Kansas, indoor mile world's record holder, and Gene Venzke, of the University of Pennsylvania, the former record holder, will meet in special events in the Kansas relays on April 21, and the Penn relays on April 28.

Announcement of the special races was made today by Forrest C. Allen, athletic director at Kansas, and H. Jamison Swarts, of Penn, after a conference. Allen is on a business trip in the East.

Robertson Rides Momo to Length Victory Over Field Goal in Bowie Feature

7,000 Crowd Sees Day's Racing

King's Pleasure, Half of Labrot Entry, Is Winner of First.

Lawless Lady Rewards With $13.50 Mutuel; Marge Triumphs.

By Walter Haight.

A FIERY-COLORED blouse, designated as tangerine on the program, streaked down the Bowie stretch yesterday afternoon. The blouse was on the back of Jockey Albert Robertson and he was on the back of Momo. It was only a few minutes later that backers of Momo were down under the stands collecting the dough-dough. Jockey Eddie Barnes attempted to boot Field Goal over the finish line ahead, but there was too much Momo. Jockey Jacobs tried to bring home the bacon with Butter Beans, but there was too much Momo. This was the order of finish in the Calvert, a clash of claimers, occuping the feature spot on Bowie's racing program.

Warm and clear weather brought out a crowd of 7,000.

Despite the fact that Momo, owned by Mrs. F. Kahn, was decisively beaten in her last two starts, the filly was installed the lukewarm favorite as a field of six accepted the issue. She ran the mile and a furlong in 1:55 3-5 and provided a $6.80 mutuel.

Momo apparently found her real speed with the shift of Albert Robertson to the saddle.

Field Goal began as if he was going to make it a runaway affair. He stole a long lead early and made Butter Beans give up the chase. Robertson moved Momo up rounding the home turn and then put on the lightning stretch rush that brought an easy victory.

King's Pleasure Wins.

The S. W. Labrot Stable scored its first victory of the meeting in the opener when King's Pleasure, half of the entry, won by a scant nose from Mario, a 14-1 shot, with Rustic Joe third. It was a battle between the first two from the rise of the barrier over at the 4-furlong pole. Mario had a little the best of it for the first furlong, but the two ran as a team until the final strides, when Hunter, on King's Pleasure, got just a trifle more out of his mount than Tipton. The Labrot gelding, coupled with Pekin, was a $4.20 mutuel. The time of 0:48 4-5 was the best for juveniles to date.

Earl Porter put up a million-dollar ride to get Lawless Lady home on the winning end in the second, a 6-furlong sprint. The daughter of Mad Hatter was virtually left at the post and trailed the field up the back stretch, while Appomattox and Rishi struggled for the lead. When Distribute, the odds-on favorite, caught this pair, it appeared that this one was ready for the pay-off. However, Porter suddenly shot Lawless Lady up through the stretch, and the filly took four jumps to Distribute's one to win by a length going away. It marked the fifth race in a row that Distribute has been second. Appomattox last for the show. The winner paid $13.50.

Second for Marge.

Marge made it two straight for W. G. Merion by winning the third under a hustling ride by Silvo Coucci. The daughter of Macaw, which raced in Florida with little success, overcame interference on the swing for the stretch to go to the front and offset the rush of Retribution. Mint de Mie was third from a ragged start. Marge was a slight favorite over Mint de Mie and rewarded with a $6 pay-off.

Style Corner ran the fastest 6 furlongs of the meeting, 1:14 1-5, to get home a nose in front of Fervid. It was the second straight race in which Coucci and Porter hooked up in a stretch duel, and again the Italian boy took the honors. Style Corner, a 2-to-1 betting proposition, ran In High into defeat early, but was ridden to the last notch, as Fervid thundered down the stretch. Nose In was a well-beaten third.

Rock Point was much the best of the half dozen sprinters in the sixth race. The gelding was kept close to the pace cut out by Chain and Dornoch, and taking command in the last furlong he moved away and beat Chain by four lengths, paying $7.60. Chain was three lengths in advance of Dornoch for the secondary award.

Fair Billy, $19.80, won the last race by three lengths from Calgary Kay. Come On was third.

Satoh Continues Trip But Not Likely to Play

Singapore, April 5 (AP).—Jiro Satoh, Japanese Davis Cup veteran, who was taken ill aboard a ship while en route to Europe with other members of the team, today decided to continue with his teammates instead of returning to Tokyo.

It was considered doubtful, however, that he would be able to play in the Davis Cup matches.

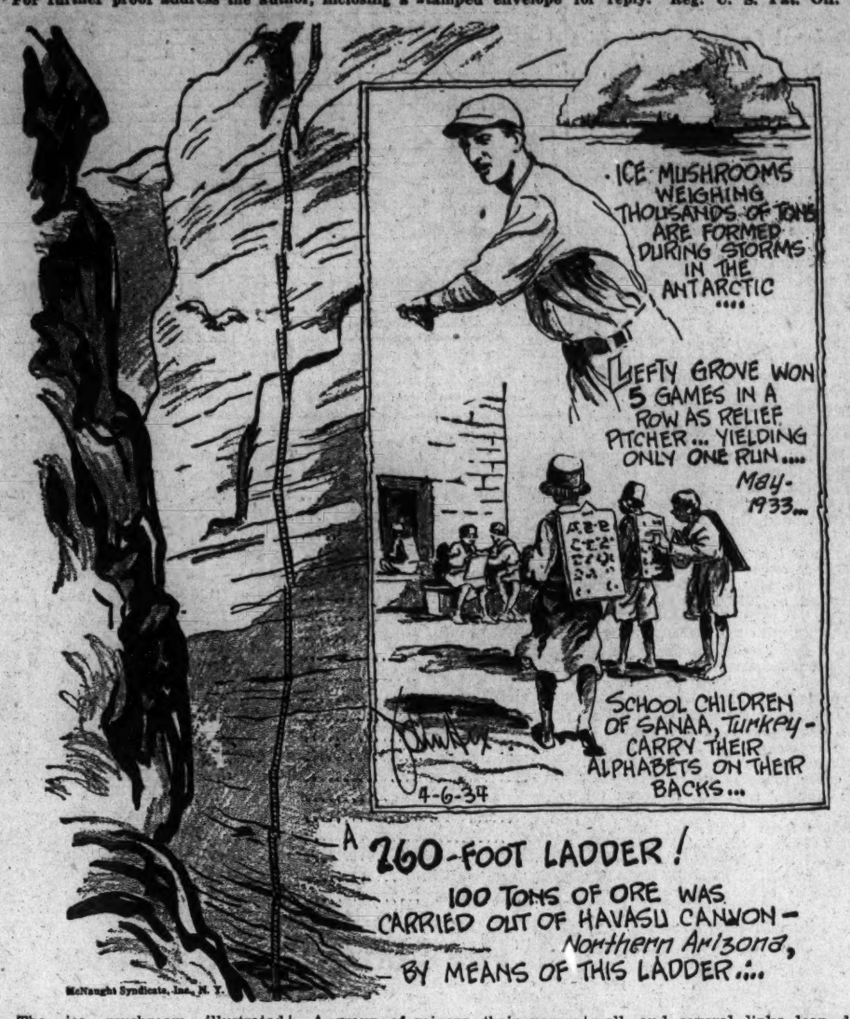
Strange as It Seems —By John Hix

For further proof address the author, inclosing a stamped envelope for reply. Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.



The ice mushroom illustrated above is one of the strange ice formations that may sometimes be seen in the antarctic area after a blizzard. The start of such a formation is always on an exposed reef or rock. It begins when salt spray, whipped up by the wind, freezes against the exposed rock. As the freezing continues the "mushroom" grows, sometimes to contain thousands of tons of ice.

The underpart is regular and flat, appearing as though it were sheared off a few feet above the water line.

A group of miners, their names now forgotten, carried on one of the strangest mining ventures known when in Havasu Canyon, northern Arizona, a few decades ago, they sought silver ore from the face of a perpendicular cliff 260 feet above the floor of the canyon.

To reach the site of their outcropping of ore they erected a gigantic ladder, 260 feet high, up the face of the cliff—a height greater than that of an average 20-story building. In places the ladder had to be built out around humps on the canyon wall, and several links lean dangerously away from the rock.

At the top of the ladder a 30-foot shaft was driven into the rock, but there the venture met failure. The ore, though valuable, was not worth mining because it was so difficult to get it to the nearest smelter. The miners did take 100 tons of ore out of their strange mine, however, before abandoning it.

Bowie Race Track, April 5.

Dear Al:

By their winners, ye shall know them (the selectors). Well, friend, Bennings, Inc., supplied only two of the principal pay-off horses yesterday. However, in 21 tries we named them all. King's Pleasure and Momo stepped down to the finish just as we had predicted. In each of the other five races, our No. 3 choice was the victor. Our record for Bowie is 10 winners to date. I see by the papers that Dick Reynolds, of the tobacco Reynoldses, signed on the dotted line yesterday and was handed over an inheritance of $25,000,000. If I had that fellow's dough, I'd go right out to the track and win myself a fortune.

BILL.

First race—Whoa Back turned in a nice race behind Up and Up here opening day, closing with a stretch rush that earned second money. This one may graduate in this field. Cheka won at Hialeah before coming North and appears to be the one to beat. Our Mae for the show.

Second race—Transen was a winner in Florida. Her last at Tropical found her fourth, but she suffered interference in the race. Clear sailing today should bring us a winner here. Esperanto comes to this recommended by good New Orleans races. A change in track conditions would move up Suspicious and Cabochon.

Third race—Clocker Mike gives us Alaric for today. The gelded son of Wildair graduated in Florida and has turned in some fast moves here. Coucci will ride. Hilise and Back Fence to complete the money money picture.

Fourth race—Waterset won a fair sprint in Dixie Land and gets in this with only 105 pounds. Reported fit and ready for a sprint of this kind. Bungalow hasn't been out since Charles Town, but will be a factor at the first asking. Patrice Runyon for the show, and all of it if the top ones make mistakes.

Fifth race—Blue Foam showed me enough in her victory here to warrant top selection in this group. Will have the hustling Porter aboard. Chrysmute won here last year and is dangerous. Little Corporal for the show.

Sixth race—Southard ran second for me opening day, bowing to the stretch speed of Jane Ellen. However, the son of Blondin is at the peak of his form and should take this purse. Another Porter mount. Parity comes offff a good sprint. Spartan Lady to take care of the others.

Seventh race—War Tide was all over the track here the other day. I expect a shift in riders and a winning effort today. All Rowes can better that last. Chat Eagle for the show.

Lucky 7th?

It Took That Many Centers to Get Wausau Through Basket Ball Season.

Wausau, Wis., (AP).—The center job on the Wausau High School basket ball team seemed thoroughly jinxed this season.

Coach Cabby Ewers had to develop six different boys for the job during the season and then dig up a seventh for the district tournament!

Mid-year graduation, scholastic deficiency, measles, tonsilitis and two sprained ankles made up the chain of center-removing exigencies.

President Entertains.

William Benswanger, president of the Pittsburgh Pirates, entertained the pupils of the Paso Robies (Calif.) High School last week with a piano recital, together with an interesting lecture on the composers whose numbers he played.

Gerry Nugent, Phillies' president, also plays the piano.

Go to Housekeeping.

A number of the married members of the Yankees are taking the club's hotel and food allowances to live in bungalows and apartments in St. Petersburg, thereby keeping down the personal overhead.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—KINGS PLEASURE, $4.20, $3.00 $2.40; MARIO, $8.70, $4.40; RUSTIC JOE, $3.70.

KINGS PLEASURE, in close attendance of MARIO from beginning, gained command when straightened into home stretch and just lasted long enough. MARIO began quickly, displayed nice speed and came again after being displaced. RUSTIC JOE forced to race on outside, closed resolutely during final drive.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $800. For 3-year-olds; claiming. Start good from gate. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 3:04. Off at 3:04½. Winner, W. G. Merion's b. f. Two-dollar mutuels paid—LAWLESS LADY, $13.50, $4.40, $2.70; DISTRIBUTE, $2.50, $2.20; APPOMATTOX, $2.50.

LAWLESS LADY dropped back immediately following the start and trailed far back for the first half-mile, settled in her stride when approaching the home stretch, swung to the outside for the final drive and closed with a belated rush to set up in the final sixteenth. DISTRIBUTE, steadied in near pursuit of the leaders, took command when ready but weakened fast during the final drive. APPOMATTOX had a lot taken out of her racing with Rishi and tired in the final quarter.

THIRD RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $800; claiming. For 3-year-olds. Start good from gate. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 3:33. Off at 3:37. Winner W. G. Merion's b. f. (3), by Macaw—Fan Tan. Two-dollar mutuels paid—MARGE, $6.60, $3.90, $2.70; RETRIBUTION, $16.60, $5.90; MINT DE MIE, $3.00.

MARGE, kept on the outside in the early stages met with slight interference when leaving the back stretch, circled to the outside to wear down the leaders, and had enough in reserve to beat RETRIBUTION. Latter, slow to set going, worked her way up steadily and came with good courage under punishment. MINT DE MIE began slowly, was blocked slightly when driving up between horses at the stretch turn and luckily secured racing room and closed stoutly. PEEDEEQUE, a stout factor from the start, assumed command at the turn when crossing over on the leaders, but tired suddenly in the final test.

FOURTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $800. For 4-year-olds and upward; claiming. Start good from gate. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 4:08. Off at 4:09½. Winner, Mrs. A. G. Marchant's b. g. Two-dollar mutuels paid—STYLE CORNER, $6.60, $3.80, $2.90; FERVID, $5.90, $5.30; NOSE IN, $4.70.

STYLE CORNER, nicely handled, raced IN HIGH into submission in the first five furlongs, responded willingly under severe pressure and Coucci outrode Porter when it came to a drive. FERVID, steadied within striking distance of the leaders, made a wide turn when moving up sharply at the stretch turn, then closed with excellent courage. NOSE IN restrained off the early pace, came courageously under punishment in the final drive.

FIFTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse, $800. The Calvert. For 4-year-olds and upward; claiming. Start good from gate. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 4:38. Off at 4:42. Winner, Mrs. F. Two-dollar mutuels paid—MOMO, $6.80, $3.70, $2.40; FIELD GOAL $5.30, $3.10; BUTTER BEANS, $2.50.

MOMO, allowed to reach her best stride before moving to the leaders, gained fast in the last half-mile, wore Field Goal down inside the final furlong and was slowly moving clear under pressure. FIELD GOAL sprinted into an easy lead, was steadied in front until challenged, but was unable to resist the winner. BUTTER BEANS, prominent from the beginning, could not keep pace when put to a drive. FABIUS closed a good gap from a slow beginning. BRASS MONKEY was always outrun.

SIXTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $800. For 4-year-olds and upward; claiming. Start good from gate. Won easily; place, driving. Went to post at 5:09. Off at 5:12. Winner, J. Hartman's b. g. Two-dollar mutuels paid—ROCK POINT, $7.60, $5.10, $3.10; CHAIN $5.20, $2.80; DORNOCH, $2.60.

ROCK POINT, reserved off the early pace, moved up strongly approaching the home stretch, wore down the pacemakers and came out stoutly nearing the end. CHAIN raced DORNOCH into submission after losing command momentarily on the ground, but was no match for the winner. DORNOCH moved to the front with good speed midway of the turn, but flattened out badly in the final drive. JANE ELLEN was never able to better her position at any stage.

Stocks Record Small Gain in Quiet Market

Preferred Listings Climb Again; Sales Drop to 1,444,210 Shares.

New York, April 5 (AP).—Stocks had an unexciting market today, but the undertone was firm and once more the closing composite recorded a small net gain. Preferred stocks also held their upward trend.

Group movements in common stocks were confined to three or four sections. Utilities came to life at rising prices when it was learned that the New York State Senate had killed Gov. Lehman's municipal ownership bill.

Oils were active and fairly firm, being hopeful that a solution would be found for the excess gasoline problem as well as mindful of better earnings and the approaching season for larger consumption of petroleum products.

Coppers Attract Attention.

With copper metal up ¼ cent to 8¼ cents a pound, some traders switched to representatives of the red metal industry, though gains for Anaconda, Kennecott and Phelps Dodge were moderate. Several merchandising issues reflected the rise in March sales volume. Packing stocks attracted some attention in the forenoon.

Low-priced shares of various descriptions quieted down a bit after their recent exertions. Elsewhere, there were a few strong spots, one being Coca Cola which rose nearly 4. Loew's was in demand during the afternoon, and netted a one-point rise.

First National Stores, Wrigley, J. C. Penney, S. H. Kress, McCrory preferred and the Armour preferreds improved about 1 to 2. Many of the so-called pivotal stocks had a dull day; American Telephone, for instance, did not open until near the end of the second hour. It finished fractionally lower, having United States Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors and several others for company. Case, Chrysler and New York Central lost more than a point. Consolidated Gas led the recovery in power issues. Transactions totaled 1,444,210 shares.

Business News Routine.

Business reports were rather routine, but Mr. Untermyer's criticism of the present stock market control measure attracted Wall street readers of the Washington news, and there was an undercurrent of hope that the bill faced a tempering. The recent quiet firmness of stocks would appear to reflect a belief that present provisions of the measure will be carefully canvassed in Congress.

The Federal Reserve statement covered the period of large month-end and quarterly settlements. Treasury sterilization of gold received through import, noted during the past fortnight, was at least temporarily halted, for the item "gold certificates on hand and due" showed an increase of $28,000,000 whereas gold imports amounted to only $22,000,000.

Earnings assets of New York City member banks rose $103,000,000. Security loans were up and commercial borrowings at the banks expanded $26,000,000. Also, they added $23,000,000 to investments in securities other than United States Governments. Net demand deposits were up $128,000,000.

Robey's Review

Finance Economics Business

Current Refunding Operation of the Government Reflects a Sound Determination to Get Borrowing on a Long-Term Basis.

By Ralph West Robey.

There is comparatively little that needs to be said about the new financing by the United States Government. It follows strictly orthodox lines. Further, it reflects a healthy determination to get away from the short term field and extend maturities to some years in the future. The consensus is that the offering will be a success. It is expected, in fact, that the new obligations will sell at a premium of perhaps as much as 2 per cent.

The principal offering is to convert $1,000,000,000 of called Liberty 4¼s into obligations bearing 3¼ per cent interest due in 12 years and callable in 10 years. The same privilege is given to holders of $225,000,000 of Treasury notes maturing May 2. The billion dollar maturity which thus is being refunded is the result of a Treasury call of Liberty 4¼s of last October 12. At that time an offer was made to the holders of approximately $1,875,000,000 to convert these obligations into bonds with a 12 year maturity and callable after 10 years. These new bonds were to bear interest at the rate of 4¼ per cent for the first year and thereafter 3¼ per cent.

Offering Was Viewed As Certain of Success.

When that offer was made it was received with considerable satisfaction in financial circles. By and large it was felt that the terms offered were liberal and that the refunding operation would be successful. For some two weeks, too, this prophecy was proving true in spite of the fact that the currency policy of the Government was uncertain. At this time some $800,000,000 of the old fourth Libertys were turned in for exchange into the new obligations.

On Sunday, October 22, however, the President made a radio address announcing the gold-buying program. He emphasized that this was a policy, not an expedient. In the face of this it no longer was possible to assume that the Administration was interested in a sound money program. Rather, one had to conclude that our monetary policy still included so much whimsy that long-term committments could be made only at grave risk.

Immediate Effect Was To Stop Conversions.

The immediate effect of the announcement of the new gold policy was to stop conversions under the refunding offer. This left approximately $1,000,000,000 which, because of the call, now had a maturity of April 15. It is this billion dollars that is being handled by the current offering. Granting the success of the issue, accordingly, we shall be, from a financial point of view, in about the same place that we would have been had the offer of last October been successful. In other words, we will have refunded $1,875,000,000 of 4¼ Government bonds into 12-year obligations bearing a rate of 3¼ per cent.

From a financial point of view this means a saving of between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000 a year on interest payments. This aspect of the case, however, is far less significant than the indication which the success of this offering will provide as to the ability of the United States Government to borrow on other than short-term paper.

Restoring the confidence of the public to the point where this has become possible has been a difficult task. It is unthinkable that the Administration will not give weight to this fact before it tries any more currency experiments.

Pullman Car Income Deficit Cut to $98,689

Standard Oil of Indiana Net Is Increased to $17,674,351.

Chicago, April 5 (AP).—A gross income of $3,384,945 from transportation operations for February was reported today by the Pullman Co., sleeping-car company affiliate of Pullman, Inc. This left a net deficit of $98,689, compared to a deficit of $299,693 in February, 1933.

The Northwestern Public Service Co., which furnishes gas and electric service to South Dakota communities, today reported gross earnings of $2,248,271.78 for 1933, a decrease of 8.5 per cent from the gross of $2,457,888.36 in 1932. Net income was $271,295.24, compared with $378,098.13 for 1932.

Edward G. Seubert, president of the company, announced today that Standard Oil Co. of Indiana had net earnings in 1933 of $17,674,351, or $1.14 a share on its stock.

Earnings in 1932 were $16,558,281, or $1.04 a share. Seubert said the company found a brisker demand for all its products in the first quarter of 1934.

New York, April 5 (AP).—White Motor Co. and subsidiaries report for 1933 net loss of $3,168,589 after fixed charges, including undistributed earnings of White Motor Realty Co. In 1932 the company reported net loss of $3,618,762 after fixed charges, but exclusive of loss on liquidation of White Motors Securities Corporation amounting to $152,385, which was charged to the surplus account.

United Gas Improvement Co. reports consolidated net income of $32,541,421 for 1933, equivalent, after dividends on the preferred stock, to $1.23 a share on the common stock. In 1932, net income was $35,384,300, or $1.36 a common share.

Directors of Columbia Gas & Electric Corporation today declared the usual dividends on the company's stocks. They comprised an amount equivalent to 12½ cents on the common, payable in convertible 5 per cent preference stock, and quarterly cash payments of $1.25 on the convertible preference, $1.25 on the 5 per cent cumulative preferred and $1.60 on the 6 per cent preferred. All are payable May 15 to holdings of record April 20.

Martinsburg, W. Va., April 5 (Spl.).—Quarterly dividend checks have been mailed to holders of stock in National Fruit Products Co., according to announcement.

This is the first full quarterly dividend paid during the past two years. An unusually large sale of the plant's products has been under way the past several months, it was stated. Usually, the heavy sales season is during the spring and summer months.

Bonds Capture New Highs in Lighter Sales

Federal Loans Inspire List to Advance; Trading, $17,365,000.

New York, April 5 (AP).—Further strength of U. S. Government securities was reflected on other bond market categories today and new peaks for the past two years or more were reached by many issues.

Although prices moved forward briskly, the trading volume was considerably lower than in the previous session.

Transfers totaled $17,365,000, par value, compared with $20,358,000 yesterday. The average for 60 domestic corporate loans, however, advanced four-tenths of a point to 86, another high mark since 1931.

Buying of Federals Drops.

Buying of the Federals dropped off to around $3,000,000, but all listed Government bonds, with the exception of the uncalled Liberty 4¼s, topped their best prices for 1934 or longer. Gains here ranged from one thirty-second to seventeen thirty-seconds of a point. The called Liberty series closed unchanged at 101.14 after selling at 101.15.

In line with the forward push of the Federal section, based apparently on the favorable implications attached to the Treasury's conversion proposal, some banking quarters pointed out the possibility that the Government might decide to give notice on April 15 of an additional retirement, on October 15, of other Liberty fourth 4¼ series. Six months' notice is required for a call.

Aside from those that have already been converted, or will be paid off the middle of this month, there are still outstanding some $4,362,000,000 of the Fourth Liberty loan.

Prime Investment Issues.

Prime investment issues made the best showing in the corporation classes, although secondary loans were steady to firm. The rails were especially active at advances of fractions to a point or more. Various utilities rallied on the defeat of the municipal ownership bill at Albany. Scattered industrials were also strong.

Among the best of the carriers were loans of Alleghany Corporation, Santa Fe, Chesapeake & Ohio, Rock Island, Great Northern, Hudson & Manhattan, Louisville & Nashville, Morris & Essex, New Haven, Northern Pacific, Pennsylvania, Southern and Union Pacific.

The better utilities and industrials included bonds of Wilson & Co., Warner Bros., Utilities Power & Light, Texas Corporation, Shell Union Oil, Postal Telegraph, North American Edison, Newberry, Morris & Co., Milwaukee Electric, International Telephone, International Hydro-Electric, Goodyear, General Theater, Detroit Edison, Consolidated Gas, Columbia Gas, California Packing, American Water Works, American Telephone and American & Foreign Power.

Foreign obligations were quiet, but improvement was shown by obligations of Germany, Chile, France, Japan and Lautaro Nitrate.

Foreign Markets.

London, April 5 (A.P.).—Business on the stock exchange was quieter today. The success of the government's conversion loan was offset by profit taking which caused gilt-edged securities and home rails to ease. Gold mining shares, oil stocks and industrials, especially flour-milling shares, were the steadiest sections. The market closed quiet.

Paris—With the economy decrees injecting new life into the market, and with rentes, which gained more than a point, leading the way, prices on the bourse advanced today. The closing was firm.

Berlin—Prices on the boerse were weak at the beginning, but improved later and closed steady.

Wool Market.

Boston, April 5 (A.P.) (U. S. Dept. of Agr.).—The prices at which early shorn new fleece wools were offered on the Boston market caused some weakness on medium quality Ohio fleeces. Original bags and country graded fleeces of Michigan, Indiana and similar Midwestern types were offered at 35@37 cents in the grease for lots containing combing and clothing 56s, ¾ blood and 48s, 50s, ¼ blood qualities. These prices were considered by the Boston trade to be below the parity of current asking prices on graded Ohio wools of last year's clip.

Steel Prices Unchanged.

New York, April 5 (A.P.).—Steel prices unchanged.

Cotton Loses Early Rallies In Late Trading

May Closes at 11.98 as General Market Drops 7 to 8 Points.

New York, April 5 (AP).—Trading in cotton was quiet today within a range of 5 to 10 points. There were moderate rallies from an early decline, but prices eased off again in the later trading and after selling at 12.17 during the morning, July closed at 12.10 or the lowest level of the day for that position. The general market finished barely steady at net declines of 7 to 8 points.

Initial offerings on a slight decline were absorbed by the trade, and there was some buying of near months believed to be for Japanese accounts. Houses with Liverpool and continental connections were sellers however, and prices eased off after the call in a comparatively narrow market.

The market worked up a few points around midday on covering and trade buying, but eased again in the late trading under reselling by some of the early buyers. Closing quotations were at or within a point or two of the lowest for the day on most positions with May at 11.98 and October at 11.24.

Reports from Washington that the Bankhead bill would probably be taken up in conference on Monday failed to stimulate business to any extent, and traders appeared to be awaiting more definite developments in that direction.

Exports today, 13,551, making 6,254,777 so far this season. Port receipts, 9,013. United States port stocks, 3,072,762.

Employes Get 77.8 Per Cent Of U. S. Income

1933 Wages and Salaries Total $30,900,000,000; Higher in 1932.

New York, April 5.—New light is thrown on the effects of the depression by an analysis of changes in the National income from 1929 to 1933 made public today by the National Industrial Conference Board.

According to the conference board's preliminary estimates for 1933, wages and salaries paid out to employes in all occupations were $30,900,000,000, or 77.8 per cent of the total national income produced, which amounted to $39,800,000,000, while only $8,800,000,000 was available as return for labor, management, and investment of proprietors of farms and other business enterprises, independent professional persons, recipients of rents and royalties, and security owners.

According to the official figures, however, the total income distributed to all groups including employes in 1932 amounted to $49,000,000,000, involving a dissipation of capital assets totaling $10,600,000,000, or 21.6 per cent of the total income paid out. This means, the board says, that in 1932 the National income account went into the red by over $10,000,000,000 to cover pay rolls of employes, to provide a return for the labor, management and investment of farmers, other business proprietors and independent professional men, and to pay rents, royalties, dividends and interest.

Private Capital Used.

This deficit, the met in part directly out of actual consumption or dissipation of private capital assets, including the savings of farmers, small business concerns, professional people and corporation surpluses, and partly out of Governmental borrowing of private capital assets and their expenditure through Governmental channels for relief.

What proportion of private capital assets thus directly dissipated went to cover pay rolls of employes can not be measured from figures so far available, but the board points out that the Federal statistics of corporate income show that net losses of all corporations in 1932 before dividends amounted to $4,600,000,000.

Between 1929 and 1932, according to the board's analysis of the official data, wages and salaries paid to employes in all occupations declined 40.2 per cent, while produced income available as return on labor, management, and investment for farmers and other business proprietors, professional persons, recipients of rents, royalties, interest and dividends declined 77.6 per cent, or relatively nearly twice as much.

B. & O. Loadings Gain.

Grafton, W. Va., April 5 (Spl.).—An increase of approximately 70 per cent over the corresponding period of last year is shown in the business hauled over lines of the Monongah Division of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad during March. The major part of the haulage increase was due to large shipments of coal, resulting from improvement in the coal industry of that region.

Building Rises To High Level In 16 States

Southern Area Construction Totals $143,014,000 for First Quarter.

Baltimore, April 5 (AP).—Construction contracts in 16 Southern States during the first quarter of 1934 amounted to $143,014,000, compared with $65,559,000 and $52,970,000 for the same periods of 1933 and 1932, respectively, the Manufacturers Record reported today.

Road, street and bridge construction contracts totaled $60,156,000 in the three-month period.

With return of favorable weather conditions, the Record stated, work also will be resumed on many projects under way last year and the aggregate will provide jobs for a large number of persons.

General building contracts, such as apartments, hotels, office buildings, dwellings and stores, totaled $7,508,000, with those in the planned stage totaling $23,792,000. Public building contracts for the quarter amounted to $35,748,000 and plans for others $62,698,000.

The Record said the list of projects under way, recently completed and projected in the section, includes a number of notable industrial enterprises. "A survey discloses the growing importance of the chemical industry in the South. The textile industry is rounding out its development, installing more efficient machinery to replace obsolete production units and otherwise equipping its plants to cut production costs, despite higher wages and less hours to the work week."

Engineering projects, flood control works generally, irrigation projects and sewer, drainage and water works loom large in the South's 1934 construction program, the publication stated.

Potash Industry Of Germany Rises

The German potash trade registered a decided upward swing in January, according to a report from Consul Sydney B. Redecker, Frankfort-on-Main, made public by the Commerce Department.

Germany's domestic sales of the pure potash totaled 180,000 metric tons in January, compared with only 76,000 metric tons in January, 1933, according to reports of the German syndicate which controls the industry. Heavy gains in exports also were recorded.

The United States is still one of the world's largest importers of potash fertilizer materials, but now obtains an appreciable portion of the requirements from domestic sources. In 1933 United States imports of such material amounted to 282,570 tons, valued at approximately $8,760,000, compared with 273,800 tons, valued at $6,539,500, for the preceding year.

Greek-American Holdings Balance

That private Greek investments in the United States practically balance similar investments of Americans in Greece is revealed in a report to the Commerce Department from Commercial Attache K. L. Rankin, Athens.

Long-term Greek investments in the United States are conservatively estimated in Greece at $20,000,000. Private long-term American investments in Greece were placed at $52,851,000 in 1930, but without allowing for the repatriation by Greeks of very large amounts during several prosperous years extending into 1933.

There is reason to believe, Rankin states, that aside from intergovernmental obligations, Greece's net investments in the United States are not less than net American investments in Greece.

Rhodesia's Output Of Minerals Gains

Mineral production in southern Rhodesia registered substantial improvement in 1933 compared with the preceding year, according to a report to the Commerce Department from Commercial Attache S. H. Day, Johannesburg.

Government statistics just issued show that the total value of the mining output of the colony in December, 1933, amounted to £425,341, compared with £417,830 for the preceding month and £359,899 for December, 1932. The value of total mineral production during 1933 amounted to £4,939,635, compared with £3,848,383 for 1932, an increase of 23 per cent. All the principal mineral products of southern Rhodesia were produced in increasing quantities during 1933, the report states.

Gold is the outstanding mineral product of southern Rhodesia, a total of 642,499 fine ounces, valued at £4,014,034, having been produced during 1933.

Production of Soft Coal Totals 9,100,000 Tons

The National Coal Association, from incomplete car loading reports from the railroads, estimates bituminous coal production in the United States for the week ended March 31 as approximately 9,100,000 net tons. Production for the corresponding week: 1933, 5,136,000 net tons; 1932, 5,940,000 tons.

The report of the Bureau of Mines shows production of 8,563,000 tons for the week ended March 17, and 8,657,000 for the week ended March 24, 1934.

Production calendar year to March 31: 103,278,000 tons; 1933, 78,325,000 tons.

Paper Industry Found Helped By NRA Code

Destructive Methods Halted and Sales Pushed to Larger Volume.

New York, April 5.—Although occasional discordant notes are heard from certain sources, the mass of evidence indicates that the paper manufacturing industry is one of the few outstanding beneficiaries of the NRA, says the Standard Statistics Co., of New York, in a current survey which continues in part:

"As a result of paper code provisions, costs in almost all instances have been increased, but the more wholesome trade conditions engendered have eliminated many unsound competitive practices, and resulting higher prices together with increased sales volume have, in most cases, more than offset the higher costs. While the improved prices and increased demand were largely stimulated by the inflationary developments of the past year, the permanent effects of the NRA upon the organization of industry will operate toward maintaining the higher price schedules and more satisfactory trade conditions.

"As opposed to the destructive practices that prevailed in the paper industry some months ago, almost all factions now show a willingness to cooperate on the problems still confronting the trade, which may well be solved in the course of time. Classification of the many types of paper and filing of prices, in order to lay a foundation for the price control prescribed by the codes, are among the most difficult tasks with which the industry is faced, but these and other adjustments will be of tremendous benefit to the trade when accomplished."

Business in Haiti Improves Steadily

The economic condition of Haiti has shown progressive improvement during the current year, according to reports received in the Commerce Department's Regional Information Division.

Foreign trade of the republic during February was approximately 40 per cent in excess of February, 1933. Coffee prices continued to advance. Government revenues during February and March showed a moderate increase both in customs and internal revenue receipts.

The volume of note and coinage circulation was further augmented. The leading bank in Haiti reports deposits $200,000 greater than during the corresponding period of last year.

International Bank Nets Less on 1933 Business

Basel, Switzerland, April 5 (AP).—The earnings of the Bank for International Settlements were shown by the annual report today to have decreased 273,000,000 Swiss francs (about $86,360,000) during the fiscal year ended March 31.

Deposits in the central banks likewise dropped sharply from 450,000,000 Swiss francs (about $144,000,000) to 150,000,000 Swiss francs (about $48,000,000). The bank, however, is expected to pay a 6 per cent dividend in May.

Walt Mason, Himself

Big Money.

Once prize fights drew the voters, "the million dollar gate," but now the sad promoters can scarcely pay the freight. They line up noted bruisers, and when they count the roll, they find that they are losers, they're badly in the hole. The fighters, while they're sparring, behold no eager mob, and that is rather jarring, theirs is a heartsick job. They see the empty benches beneath the arclight's glare; some mournful sports and wenches are seated here and there; the atmosphere is chilly, and no one gives a cheer when Peter punches Billy, and spoils his larboard ear. The wise ones hold a session to find out why it's thus, and say "It's the depression that puts the lid on us. The people lack the smackers, the plunks they once bestowed, so fighters and their backers are on the poorhouse road." But some old sports are saying, "That argument's the bunk; the prize ring is decaying because the pugs are punk. Bring on some earnest fighters as we knew of old, whose feats, by gifted writers, in pages pink were told. The people have the money," the old-time sport admits, "if you'll bring on a Tunney, a Dempsey or a Fitz."

THE BUNGLE FAMILY Herman's Pal By Harry J. Tuthill

MY WORD, WHAT AN ARMFUL OF BAD LUCK POOR OLD HERMAN HAD HANDED TO HIM AFTER HE SO SIMPLY FOUND THE PARENTS OF THE BOY.
WHO BROUGHT THAT CHILD'S PARENTS HERE? IT WAS AN OFFICER, WASN'T IT?
REG. U.S. PAT. OFF. 4-6
LISTEN JO, THAT POLICEMAN MERELY HAPPENED TO BE CALLED BY THE PHOTOGRAPHER, WHO CLAIMED HE WAS TOO BUSY TO ANSWER HERMAN'S QUESTIONS.
THE PHOTOGRAPHER WASN'T TOO BUSY TO ANSWER THAT SENSIBLE POLICEMAN'S QUESTIONS.
THAT SHOWS WHAT A UNIFORM WILL DO. IF OLD HERMAN HAD A LOT OF BRASS BUTTONS ON HIM....
ACCORDING TO HIS WIFE HE HAS A BUREAU DRAWER FULL OF FAKE DETECTIVE BADGES. WHY DIDN'T HE PIN A QUART OR SO OF THEM ON HIS COAT?
IN OTHER WORDS, YOU CLAIM THAT THE POLICE HAD A PERFECT RIGHT TO INTERFERE...
THAT DIPPY MAN! AND HOW BRIGHT YOU ARE FOR TALKING AS THOUGH THE POLICE SHOULD BE ORDERED OUT OF TOWN FOR BOTHERING YOUR CHUM.

JOE JINKS, Featuring Dynamite Dunn Get That? By Llanuza

AS THE TWO FIGHTERS ARE CALLED TO THE CENTER OF THE RING, STRAIN BEGINS TO TELL ON JOE AND YOUNG BOPPO'S MANAGER...
ALL RIGHT, NOW, BOYS! YOU UNDERSTAND THE RULES—PROTECT YOURSELF AT ALL TIMES
IF YOU'RE IN A CLINCH WHEN I SAY "BREAK" I WANT YOU TO BREAK CLEAN!
SEE THAT THIS TRAMP OF YOURS REMEMBERS THAT!
OH YEAH? WELL, IF I WAS YOU I WOULDN'T BE TOO ANXIOUS ABOUT DYNAMITES BREAKIN' CLEAN—
BECAUSE THE FIRST THING HE'S GONNA BREAK CLEAN IS THAT MONKEY'S JAW!

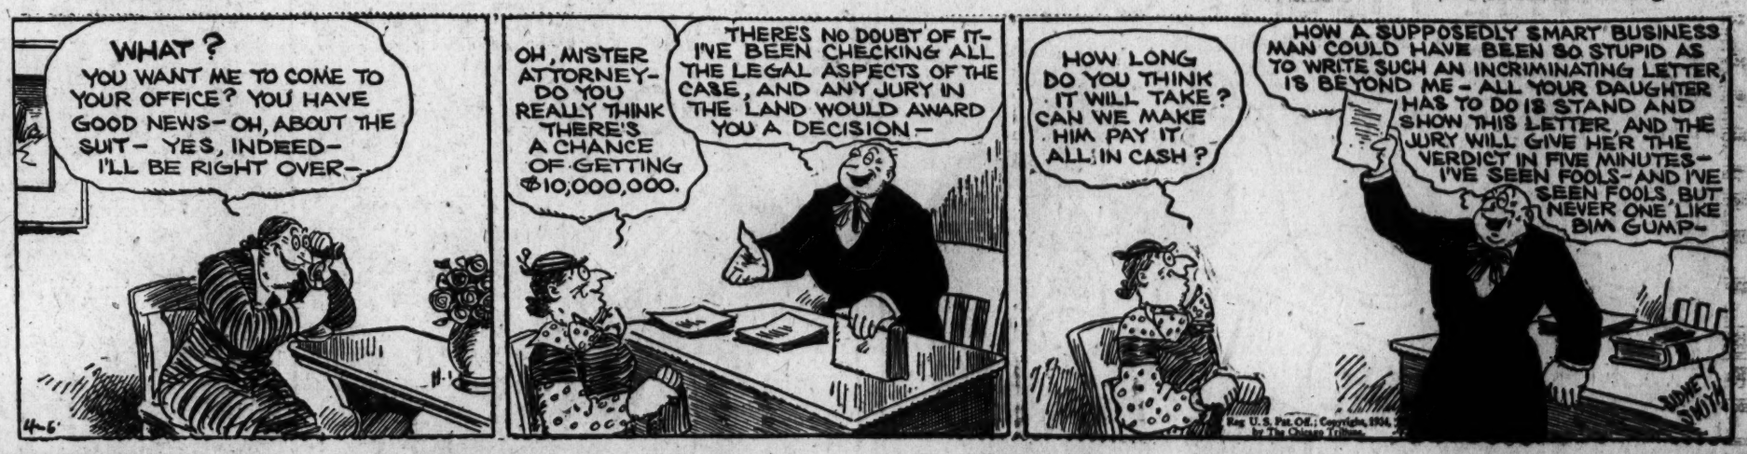
I'D LOVE TO MEET THEM—

THE GUMPS The Clouds Are Lifting



WHAT? YOU WANT ME TO COME TO YOUR OFFICE? YOU HAVE GOOD NEWS—OH, ABOUT THE SUIT—YES, INDEED—I'LL BE RIGHT OVER—
OH, MISTER ATTORNEY—DO YOU REALLY THINK THERE'S A CHANCE OF GETTING $10,000,000.
THERE'S NO DOUBT OF IT—I'VE BEEN CHECKING ALL THE LEGAL ASPECTS OF THE CASE, AND ANY JURY IN THE LAND WOULD AWARD YOU A DECISION—
HOW LONG DO YOU THINK IT WILL TAKE? CAN WE MAKE HIM PAY IT ALL IN CASH?
HOW A SUPPOSEDLY SMART BUSINESS MAN COULD HAVE BEEN SO STUPID AS TO WRITE SUCH AN INCRIMINATING LETTER, IS BEYOND ME—ALL YOUR DAUGHTER HAS TO DO IS STAND AND SHOW THIS LETTER, AND THE JURY WILL GIVE HER THE VERDICT IN FIVE MINUTES—I'VE SEEN FOOLS—AND I'VE SEEN FOOLS, BUT NEVER ONE LIKE BIM GUMP—

DICK TRACY Two Letters

MILREY, YOU'RE GOOD AT DISGUISING YOUR HAND WRITING. SIT DOWN THERE AND WRITE WHAT I DICTATE, IN YOUR BEST FEMININE HAND.

NOW I'LL WRITE ONE TO THE PENFIELD DAME LIKE THIS: "JEAN PENFIELD: KEEP YOUR HANDS OFF TRACY OR IT WILL BE YOUR LAST LOVE AFFAIR. (SIGNED) TESS TRUEHEART" MIKE, MAIL THESE LETTERS. ONLY SEND THE TRUEHEART WOMAN'S SPECIAL DELIVERY. THAT WAY SHE'LL GET HERS FIRST, AND SHE'LL GO CALLING ON MISS PENFIELD—IF I'M NOT MISTAKEN—WITH MURDER IN HER EYE! THEN—LEAVE THE REST TO ME!
